Imayo Tsukasa KOI Junmai Daiginjo Genshu

- Barrel select limited production Junmai Daiginjo
- Alcohol 17%
- Rice: Go Hyaku Mangoku
- Polish Ratio: 50%
- Genshu: Cask Strength
- Allocated availability

720ml - $120 per bottle SRP 6 bottles / case

1.8L available for future orders

Design and Sake Awards:

- A' Design Award - Platinum Trophy (Best of Show) – Italy
- The One Show – Gold (best of show) - US
- D&AD Awards: Silver - UK
- Good Design Award
- IWC – Silver

- Imayo Tsukasa's flagship sake is named after the local carp, famous for its strength, beauty, and purity.
- Urban legend says that in the old days unscrupulous brewers would dilute sake so much that a gold fish could swim in it. Not in our case, says Imayo Tsukasa, whose flagship sake is the barrel select cask strength Junmai Daiginjo.
- Niigata is famous for its KOI (carp). Able to climb powerful waterfalls, carp are a symbol of strength and resilience.
- Legend has it that any carp that climbs up the Dragon Gate waterfall transforms into a strong dragon, the symbol of an emperor in ancient China.